

AFBI Privacy Notice – CalfDefend Application

Data Controller Name: AFBI
Address: 18a Newforge Lane
Email: info@afbini.gov.uk

Data Protection Officer Name: Glenn Montgomery
Telephone: 028 9025 5494
Email: info.gov@afbini.gov.uk

Why are you processing my personal information?

We will process a minimal amount of your personal information to support AFBI's delivery of the 'CalfDefend' application to you as part of the STAMP project, a research study funded by DAERA and AgriSearch under the Research Challenge Fund. This is in line with AFBI's public task of undertaking scientific work in the fields of agriculture and the natural environment (our 'lawful basis' for processing your information under the GDPR). The information collected within 'CalfDefend' may be used to identify trends in calf husbandry to benefit the wider agri-food industry. You will not be directly identifiable by any of the results we publish. We will only use your personal information in order to administrate the CalfDefend application and manage your access to it. We will not use your personal information for marketing purposes.

What categories of personal data are you processing?

If you are registering as a vet/advisor, you will be asked to provide your name, town, email address and name and address of your practice/company.

If you are registering as a farmer, you will be asked to provide your name, town and email address. Your vet/advisor will give you a code to access your results which will link you with your veterinary surgery branch/advisory service.

What special categories of personal data are you processing?

We will not collect any special categories of personal data.

Where do you get my personal data from?

AFBI will receive personal data (name, town, email address) from the registrant.

Do you share my personal data with anyone else?

Personal data will not be shared outside AFBI; however anonymised or aggregated results may be shared with STAMP project partners (DAERA, AgriSearch, LMC, AHWNI, FarmVet Systems) in line with AFBI's public task.

If AFBI transfer the ownership and management of the application to another company, personal data already held will also be transferred. Users will be notified of this change before any transfer is made.

Do you transfer my personal data to other countries?

The personal information you supply will not be shared or transferred outside of the United Kingdom, the EU or the EEA. Sharing of information between project partners made will be in full compliance with all aspects of the GDPR.

How long do you keep my personal data?

AFBI will retain the personal information you have supplied for the life of the CalfDefend calf app, plus a further seven years for audit purposes. You can unregister from the application at any time. This process of unregistering will delete any personal data held by the application.

What rights do I have?

1. Access (Article 15, GDPR)

You have the right to obtain confirmation that your data is being processed, and request access to your personal data by contacting foi.officer@afbini.gov.uk (refer to <https://www.afbini.gov.uk/access-information>);

2. Rectification (Article 16, GDPR)

You are entitled to have personal data rectified if you believe what we hold is inaccurate or incomplete - please contact us on info.gov@afbini.gov.uk;

3. Erasure ('right to be forgotten') (Article 17, GDPR)

If you provided your personal data to us either under a contract or with your consent, you have a right to request to have your personal data erased and to prevent processing where your data is no longer required to fulfil the purpose for which it was collected, or where you have withdrawn your consent. Please be aware however, that under GDPR, we are able to continue to process your data if the erasure of such would render impossible or seriously impair the achievement of the objectives of the purposes for which it was collected (i.e. delivering of our public task or scientific research or statistical analysis).

4. Restriction (Article 18, GDPR)

You have the right to restrict or suppress our processing of your personal data, if you consider the data to be inaccurate or being processed unlawfully by us.

5. Data Portability (Article 20, GDPR)

Where you have provided your personal data to us either under a contract or with your consent, or we process your data using automated means, you have the right to receive the data from us in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format, and we will transfer this to another organisation at your request;

6. Objection (Article 21, GDPR)

You have the right to object to the processing of your personal data if we use it for the purposes of delivering our public task or legitimate interests; however, we retain the right to continue to process the data for scientific research or statistical purposes if this is being carried out for reasons of public interest.

7. Automated decision-making/profiling (Article 22, GDPR)

You have the right not to be subject to a decision based solely on automated processing, including profiling, which produces legal effects on you, unless you have provided your personal data under a contract or with your explicit consent.

We have published a guide to Citizen's Rights under GDPR/Data Protection Act 2018 which you can access here to get further information:
